Studying Classics at St Anne's

The Classics School at St Anne's College is keen to receive applications from Visiting Students and is determined to offer the best possible academic experience to those who choose us.

Students educated in the United States, Holland, Germany and Italy already make St Anne's a very international Classics School and we look forward to expanding our horizons still further.

We believe that it is essential to integrate visiting students into existing teaching programmes and to teach them alongside our own undergraduates. Students will have access to all Faculty lectures. Students may choose from among the options listed below. Do consult the Faculty and College web pages below for more information.
