The Governing Body of St Anne's College invites applications for a Stipendiary Lectureship in Law, to teach Land Law, tenable from 29 September 2025 for a fixed term covering two academic terms, until 28 March 2026.

Overview of the role

St Anne's College seeks an enthusiastic, self-motivated, talented lecturer in Land Law to undertake an average of six contact hours a week of tutorial and/or small class teaching in Michaelmas Term 2025 and Hilary Term 2026. Tutorials will be given to St Anne's students and possible also to students in other colleges under exchange arrangements. There are also other duties associated with the six contact hours of teaching each week during term, which are explained below.

The successful candidate will be expected to give classes and tutorials (small-group teaching, typically of 2-3 students) in Land Law in both Michaelmas and Hilary terms. This undergraduate teaching follows the Faculty reading list in Land Law, with the Lecturer marking students' weekly essays and problem questions to assess their progress and provide guidance for improvement.

¹ Term dates are listed at: <https://www.ox.ac.uk/about/facts-and-figures/dates-of-term?wssl=1>

Selection criteria

Applications will be judged on the basis of the candidate's potential to teach Land Law effectively and empathetically and on their potential to contribute to the life of the Law School and St. Anne's College.

Essential criteria

- 1) Have a strong record of education: the successful candidate must have a good Honours degree (either 1st or upper 2nd), or for EU/international applicants a qualification equivalent to a good Honours degree;
- 2) Be able to communicate well about the subject and to explain Land Law concepts effectively to students;
- 3) Demonstrate their commitment to adding value to the St. Anne's Law School and the wider College community;
- 4) Have the ability to assess students' work, supporting students as appropriate;
- 5) Have the ability and willingness to participate in pedagogic, pastoral, and organisational tasks in the College;
- 6) Demonstrate collegiality with good communication skills, and sensitivity in dealing effectively with any pastoral matters that may arise.

Desirable criteria

- 1) Teaching experience at university level or evidence of the ability to teach undergraduates at a high level.

Duration

This is a fixed-term post to teach Land Law for two terms. This post will end on 28 March 2026 and is subject to a satisfactory probationary period of three months.

Duties

The Lecturer will be expected to work independently at times but always ultimately in collaboration with the fellows in Law.

The successful candidate will be expected to:

- provide teaching to undergraduates and Visiting Students (hereafter referred to as 'students') in the Law School for the number of contact hours stipulated in the contract in each week of the full terms (1st Week to 8th Week inclusive) covered by the contract duration. The appointee will also be required to provide teaching to students at other colleges, to fill the six hours of tutorial teaching a week in term. They will need to submit the teaching information and reports through the Teaching Management System (TMS) requesting payment to be made to St Anne's College;
- prepare, set and mark written work relating to the teaching, and provide feedback to students;
- provide first-response pastoral support to students, consulting with other staff as required;
- supervise final year or visiting students preparing their dissertations (if applicable);
- act as Personal Tutor (additional payment per student per term will be paid for this duty, equivalent to an hour per person per term at the single person tutorial rate as stipulated in the Senior Tutors' Register of Approved Payments) when required;
- assist with the organisation of teaching within the Law School, by acting as Organising Tutor if requested;
- set and mark internal college exams ('Collections') before and at the start of each term and return scripts to students promptly;
- assist students with study skills, revision, and essay writing as required;
- submit accurate and timely teaching records each term via TMS, the Oxford Colleges' and departments' on-line reporting system for tuition;
- submit written reports on each student taught, using TMS, in time for 8th Week report readings, and conduct report readings if required;
- attend the colleges' Open Days in the summer if these fall within the dates of the contract;
- participate in Undergraduate Admissions (if requested) between October and December, in Astrophoria Foundation Year admissions (where applicable) and in Visiting Student admissions;
- take an active part in the intellectual life of the College's academic community;
- take on other duties as directed by the Law tutors and/or Senior Tutor, appropriate to the role.

Salary and benefits

- A salary of £17,023 [Stage 2] per annum pro rata for 2/3rds of the academic year, for an average of six contact hours of teaching per week in each of the two terms;
- Membership of the Senior Common Room and entitlement to 3 lunches a week;
- Membership of the Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS). Details of the pension scheme are available via the University of Oxford's USS webpage.

About St Anne's College

One of the largest Colleges in the University of Oxford, with around 860 students, St Anne's is down to earth, ambitious, outward facing and collaborative. We aspire to understand the world and change it for the better. Established in 1879 to enable women from all backgrounds to access an Oxford education, the College is committed to securing our legacy and future by being a diverse and inclusive community that is the home of choice for the brightest and most ambitious from all backgrounds, including those who may initially think that Oxford is not for them. Our community includes undergraduate and graduate students, academics involved in world-leading research and teaching, and staff from a wide range of professional backgrounds.

Research and teaching are supported by the College Library, which holds one of the largest lending collections of all the Oxford colleges with around 100,000 volumes. The Library has strong interdisciplinary collections, is open 24/7, and offers generous borrowing amounts and loan periods. Library staff actively encourage suggestions for purchase and over recent years have added a number of titles requested by JRFs across all disciplines. As well as the lending collection, the Library has a small but interesting collection of rare books and it supports Fellows and JRFs who want to use these for their own research or with their students in classes held in the reading rooms.

Law at St Anne's College

The St. Anne's Law School consists of three Fellows (Imogen Goold, Antonia Layard and Antonios Tzanakopoulos) as well as a Stipendiary Lecturer, Lucy Trafford. There are five to seven students in each year group as well as visiting students and postgraduate students. The School seeks teaching in Land Law to cover Prof. Layard's research leave. Reading lists and support will be provided throughout the two terms.

The reading list is available on request: please contact antonia.layard@law.ox.ac.uk.

How to apply

The following documents should be sent electronically, in .pdf or .docx format, to Mx AB Siegenthaler at academic.recruitment@st-annes.ox.ac.uk:

- 1) a completed St Anne's application form;
- 2) a curriculum vitae;
- 3) a letter of application which should specify:
 - your relevant teaching experience and how you can meet the teaching needs of the College
 - your capacity for delivering tutorials in Land Law following the Faculty syllabus
 - how you meet the selection criteria.

Candidates are also requested to complete the equal opportunities form and return it by post to St Anne's College, or by email to academic.recruitment@st-annes.ox.ac.uk. These forms are used for monitoring purposes and will not be seen by any member of the selection committee.

The deadline for receipt of applications is noon on 2 May 2025. The email subject line should be '[your surname] Law SL', and the title of each attached document should contain your surname. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all relevant materials are submitted by the application deadline. Incomplete applications will be disregarded.

Candidates are advised that an in-person interview will be required. Interviews are expected to take place in the week commencing 19 May 2025.

Informal enquiries can be made to the Senior Tutor (senior.tutor@st-annes.ox.ac.uk) and/or the Tutorial Fellow in Law (antonia.layard@st-annes.ox.ac.uk). More general or practical queries about the post, recruitment process and the College should be made, in the first instance, to Mx AB Siegenthaler (academic.recruitment@st-annes.ox.ac.uk).

Right to work in the UK

The Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006 makes it a criminal offence for employers to employ someone who is not entitled to work in the UK. We therefore ask applicants to provide proof of their right to work in the UK before employment can commence.

Appointees who are not British or Irish nationals will need a UK visa or proof of settled or pre-settled status.

Equal opportunities

The policy and practice of St Anne's College, University of Oxford, require that entry into employment with the College and progression within employment shall be determined only by personal merit and the application criteria which are related to the duties of each particular post. Subject to statutory provisions, no applicant or member of staff will be treated less favourably than another because of his or her gender, age, disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation. In all cases, ability to do the job will be the primary consideration.
