

Studying Classics at Oxford

Classics is the study of the languages, culture, history and thought of the civilisations of ancient Greece and Rome. It is one of the most varied and interdisciplinary of all subjects. Classics has been at the heart of the University since its foundation, and the Faculty continues to go from strength to strength.

Studying Classics at St Anne's

St Anne's has one of the liveliest and most distinctive Classics schools in the University. You will receive tuition from internationally distinguished tutors and make friends with students from a wide variety of backgrounds. The Classics section of the St Anne's library is very well stocked and maintained.

St Anne's College is keen to receive Classics applications from Visiting Students and is determined to offer the best possible academic experience to those who choose us. Students educated in the United States, The Netherlands, Germany and Italy already make St Anne's a very international Classics School and we look forward to expanding our horizons still further.

We believe that it is essential to integrate visiting students into existing teaching programmes and to teach them alongside our own undergraduates. Students will also have access to all Faculty lectures.

Study durations

You can apply to study Classics as a single or joint subject for any study duration.

	Ext AY	AY	Fall Term	Hilary and Trinity terms	Studied with other subjects
Classics	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Classical Archaeology and Ancient History; Asian and Middle Eastern Studies; English; History; History of Art; Medical Humanities; Modern Languages; Music; Philosophy; Economics; Law; Politics Computer Science; Experimental Psychology; Maths

Courses

Students will attend tutorials tailored to cater for the need of the students for each of their courses. Typically, visiting students will attend 3-5 lectures and 8-12 tutorials per term.

Possible available courses are as follows:

Michaelmas term:

- Greek Authors (Epic, Tragedy, Comedy, Fantasy)
- Catullus; Shorter Poems; Cicero, Pro Caelio; Propertius 1
- Latin Language
- Latin Authors (Comedy, Lyric, Epic, Philosophy)
- Greek Language
- Ovid
- Plato, Republic
- Aristotle, Nicomachean Ethics
- Ethics

- Greek History: various periods and special subjects
- Roman History: various periods and special subjects

Hilary term:

- Greek Authors (Epic, Tragedy, Comedy, Fantasy)
- Vergil, Aeneid
- Latin Language
- Greek Language
- Homer, Iliad
- Plato, Republic
- Aristotle, Nicomachean Ethics
- Ethics
- Greek History: various periods
- Roman History: various periods
- Latin Authors (Comedy, Lyric, Epic, Philosophy)

Trinity term:

- Greek Literature of the 5th Century BC
- Latin Literature of the of the 1st Century BC
- Latin Language
- Greek Language
- Ovid
- Plato, Euthyphro and Meno
- Plato, Republic
- Aristotle, Nicomachean Ethics
- Ethics
- Mill, Utilitarianism
- Greek History: various periods
- Roman History: various periods

You can find a list of currently available lectures on the Faculty website: <http://rbll.classics.ox.ac.uk/>

For a detailed description of the courses offered in the Faculty, please also review the Undergraduate Course Handbooks on each individual subject: <https://www.classics.ox.ac.uk/handbooks>

Pre-requisites

Ideally you will be studying Classics, CAAH or a similar/related subject at your home institution but no specific prerequisites are required. We also welcome students with previous background knowledge or language skills.

Additional information

Faculty website: <https://www.classics.ox.ac.uk/>