The Governing Body of St Anne's College invites applications for a Stipendiary Lectureship in Law, tenable from 21 September 2026.

Overview of the role

St Anne's College invites applications for a Stipendiary Lecturer in Law to undertake tutorial and/or small class teaching in Jurisprudence as well as to provide teaching on Introduction to Law and Legal Concepts to Visiting Students in Law, for an average of four contact hours per week during term, averaged over three eight-week terms.

Applicants who are able to offer teaching in any other core paper offered by the Law Faculty are welcome and should indicate in their application which, if any, of these additional core papers they would be able to teach. The list of core Law undergraduate courses is available here: <https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/content/course/ba-jurisprudence>.

¹ Term dates are listed at: <https://www.ox.ac.uk/about/facts-and-figures/dates-of-term>.

The successful candidate will also be expected to take on a range of tasks related to teaching, which are set out in more detail below.

Information about the undergraduate degree in Law, and about tutorial teaching at Oxford, can be found here: <https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/courses/course-listing/law-jurisprudence>.

Selection criteria

Applications will be judged on the basis of the candidate's potential to teach Jurisprudence and Introduction to Law and Legal Concepts effectively and on their potential to contribute to the life of the Law School and St Anne's College.

Essential criteria

The successful candidate will:

- 1) Have a strong record of education: the successful candidate must have a good Honours degree (either 1st or upper 2nd), or for EU/international applicants a qualification equivalent to a good Honours degree;
- 2) Be able to teach the papers and courses listed above;
- 3) Demonstrate their commitment to adding value to the St Anne's Law School and the wider College community;
- 4) Have the ability to assess students' work, supporting students as appropriate;
- 5) Have the ability and willingness to participate in pedagogic, pastoral, and organisational tasks in the College;
- 6) Demonstrate collegiality with good communication skills, and sensitivity in dealing effectively with any pastoral matters that may arise.

Desirable criteria

- 7) Teaching experience at university level or evidence of the ability to teach undergraduates at a high level.

Duration

This is a permanent post to teach Law, which is subject to a satisfactory probationary period of four months.

Duties

The Lecturer will be expected to work independently at times but always ultimately in collaboration with the Fellows in Law.

The successful candidate will be expected to:

- provide teaching to undergraduates and Visiting Students (hereafter referred to as 'students') in the Law School for the number of contact hours stipulated in the contract in each week of the full terms (1st Week to 8th Week inclusive) covered by the contract duration. The appointee may also be required to provide teaching to students at other colleges to fill the four hours of tutorial teaching a week in term. They will need to submit the teaching information and reports through the Teaching Management System (TMS) requesting payment to be made to St Anne's College;
- prepare, set and mark written work relating to the teaching, and provide feedback to students;
- provide first-response pastoral support to students, consulting with other staff as required;
- supervise students preparing their dissertations (if applicable);
- act as Personal Tutor (additional payment per student per term will be paid for this duty, equivalent to an hour per person per term at the single person tutorial rate as stipulated in the Senior Tutors' Register of Approved Payments) when required;
- assist with the organisation of teaching within the Law School, by acting as Organising Tutor if requested;
- set and mark internal college exams ('Collections') before and at the start of each term and return scripts to students promptly;
- assist students with study skills, revision, and essay writing as required;
- submit accurate and timely teaching records each term via TMS, the Oxford Colleges' and departments' on-line reporting system for tuition;
- submit written reports on each student taught, using TMS, in time for 8th Week report readings, and conduct report readings if required;
- attend the colleges' Open Days in the summer if these fall within the dates of the contract;
- participate in Undergraduate Admissions (if requested) between October and December, in Astrophoria Foundation Year admissions (where applicable) and in Visiting Student admissions (where applicable);
- take an active part in the intellectual life of the College's academic community;
- take on other duties as directed by the Law tutors and/or Senior Tutor, appropriate to the role.

Salary and benefits

- A salary of £11,577 [Stage 2] per annum;
- Membership of the Senior Common Room and entitlement to two lunches a week in termtime;
- Membership of the Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS). Details of the pension scheme are available via the University of Oxford's USS webpage.

About St Anne's College

One of the largest Colleges in the University of Oxford, with around 825 students, St Anne's is down to earth, ambitious, outward facing and collaborative. We aspire to understand the world and change it for the better. Established in 1879 to enable women from all backgrounds to access an Oxford education, the College is committed to securing our legacy and future by being a diverse and inclusive community that is the home of choice for the brightest and most ambitious from all backgrounds, including those who may initially think that Oxford is not for them. Our community includes undergraduate and graduate students, academics involved in world-leading research and teaching, and staff from a wide range of professional backgrounds.

Research and teaching are supported by the College Library, which holds one of the largest lending collections of all the Oxford colleges with around 100,000 volumes. The Library has strong interdisciplinary collections, is open 24/7, and offers generous borrowing amounts and loan periods. Library staff actively encourage suggestions for purchase and over recent years have added a number of titles requested by JRFs across all disciplines. As well as the lending collection, the Library has a small but interesting collection of rare books and it supports Fellows and JRFs who want to use these for their own research or with their students in classes held in the reading rooms.

Law at St Anne's College

St Anne's has three Law Fellows. Professor Imogen Goold teaches Medical Law and Ethics and Tort at undergraduate, and several specialist courses related to medical law on the BCL/MJur. Professor Antonia Layard specialises in property, planning and environmental law as well as in legal geography. Professor Antonios Tzanakopoulos is an expert in public international law, with particular expertise in state responsibility, dispute settlement and the law of international organisations.

Law at St Anne's offers the academic rigour of an Oxford legal education within a college known for its openness, independence of thought and strong sense of community. The College has a long tradition of excellence in law, combined with a modern outlook and a commitment to widening access.

Law students run the Geldart Law Society, organising events and developing the legal community. They also benefit from a dedicated law library – the Geldart Room. The library holds multiple copies of textbooks and provides access to recommended reading for tutorials and seminars. For some students, the law library becomes a regular working space, providing a place to study and connect.

How to apply

The following documents should be sent in separate .pdf or .docx files to Mx AB Siegenthaler at academic.recruitment@st-annes.ox.ac.uk:

- 1) a completed St Anne's application form (see the next page of this document);
- 2) a curriculum vitae;
- 3) a letter of application which should specify:
 - your relevant teaching experience and how you can meet the teaching needs of the College;
 - your capacity for delivering tutorials in Law for the topics specified above;
 - how you meet the selection criteria.

Please note that written work should not be sent, but may be requested at a later date.

Upon receipt of an application, candidates will also be requested to complete the equal opportunities form online; this is accessible via a link which will be sent in a separate email. These forms are used for monitoring purposes and will not be seen by any member of the selection committee.

The deadline for receipt of applications is noon on 28 August 2026. The email subject line should be '[your surname] Law SL', and the title of each attached document should contain your surname. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all relevant materials are submitted by the application deadline. Incomplete applications will be disregarded. Interviews are expected to take place in the week commencing 7 September 2026.

Informal enquiries can be made to the Senior Tutor (senior.tutor@st-annes.ox.ac.uk) and/or the Tutorial Fellow in Law (antonia.layard@st-annes.ox.ac.uk). More general or practical queries about the post, recruitment process and the College should be made, in the first instance, to Mx AB Siegenthaler (academic.recruitment@st-annes.ox.ac.uk).

Right to work in the UK

The Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006 makes it a criminal offence for employers to employ someone who is not entitled to work in the UK. We therefore ask applicants to provide proof of their right to work in the UK before employment can commence.

Appointees who are not British or Irish nationals will need a UK visa or proof of settled or pre-settled status.

Further information is available at: <http://www.ukba.homeoffice.gov.uk/workingintheuk/>.

Equal opportunities

The policy and practice of St Anne's College, University of Oxford, require that entry into employment with the College and progression within employment shall be determined only by personal merit and the application criteria which are related to the duties of each particular post. Subject to statutory provisions, no applicant or member of staff will be treated less favourably than another because of his or her gender, age, disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation. In all cases, ability to do the job will be the primary consideration.
